STOPPING BY WOODS ON A SNOWY EVENING

By Robert Frost (1874-1963)

Whose woods these are I think I know.
His house is in the village though;
He will not see me stopping here
To watch his woods fill up with snow.

My little horse must think it queer
To stop without a farmhouse near Between the woods and frozen lake
The darkest evening of the year.

He gives his harness bells a shake
To ask if there is some mistake.
The only other sound's the sweep
Of easy wind and downy flake.

The woods are lovely, dark and deep,
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep.

We are all connected

Source of all life,
God of the lush forests,
God of the clean air,
God of the clear waters,
God of every living creature,
open our eyes, minds and hearts
to see that we are all connected,
all part of the same network of life:
what hurts and pollutes one,
hurts and pollutes the other.

Help us to listen to you and to repent from our destructive ways.
So that your wonderful, diverse planet
can breathe again and live,
and we and our children with it.
Amen.

Urzula Glienecke, from Living Faithfully in the Time of Creation

What do you say to a rabbit on its birthday?

Hoppy birthday.

How do you make a witch itch?
